

We are signatories of the Fair Funerals pledge 2020, and commit to the following:

- We will help people to find funerals that are within their means.
- We will be open about the price of our services, including third party costs:
In initial conversations, within our price lists and on our website.
- We will be open about the amount of any deposit we require,
and when this and the final balance are due:
In initial conversations, within our price lists and on our website.

By signing the Fair Funerals pledge 2020, funeral directors become part of a community of directors who agree to put transparency and honesty at the centre of their work, and who aspire to be the change we all want to see within the funeral industry.
